Request the official documents

Before relying on any approval claim, request:

- The original approval or NOC document issued by the relevant authority.
- The approval reference, issue date, project address and approved scope.
- Information on conditions, expiry dates or outstanding requirements.
- The authority's official method for independently checking the document.

Keep project information consistent

Check that the developer name, site location, project phase and property type match the official paperwork. Request updates if the project scope or phase changes.

This sheet does not establish approval

No NOC approval, reference number, signature, stamp or certificate is represented here. This sheet is a demonstration of the project document section and must not be used as official approval evidence.
